323 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, sixpence, 1600/159-, mm. cypher, crowned bust l. (B&C 6C) rose behind, rev. shield of arms, date above (S.2578A), scarce, toned, very fine or better £120-150

324 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, halfpennies (2), mm. escallop and hand over crescent, portcullis, rev. cross, pellets in angles (S.2581), both good fine, the first scarce, the second a rare overmark (2) £60-80

* The second ex R A Shuttlewood (private transaction), purchased Seaby, 1974

325 Elizabeth I, sixth issue, crown, mm. 1, crowned bust l. (B&C 9A), with orb and sceptre, rev. shield of arms (S.2582), better than fine, a little weak on portrait £1000-1500

326 Elizabeth I, sixth issue, sixpence, 1602, mm. 2, crowned bust l. (B&C 6C) rose behind, rev. shield of arms, date above (S.2585), toned, very fine or better, though the mintmarks are indistinct, particularly on the reverse, rare, especially in this condition £120-150

This date normally turns up in fine condition or less.

327 Elizabeth I, trade coinage, Portcullis money, testern, mm 0, crowned shield of arms, crowned ER at sides, legend ends REGINA, rev. crowned portcullis, legend ends MEVM. (S.2607D), very fine but plugged at one o'clock £700-900
An interesting group of Elizabethan pewter tokens

328 Elizabeth I, pewter token or jetton, undated, lion rampant l., E-R at sides, rev. crowned portcullis with chains (N.2064; Mitchener 4696), rare, about very fine £100-120

329 Elizabeth I, pewter token or jetton, 1570, stg. figure of Justice, holding sword and balance, stars and R-K at sides, rev. crowned arms of France (not in Mitchener), some digs on obverse, fine and very rare £80-100

330 Elizabeth I, pewter token or jetton, undated, ?struck for the Accession, phoenix rising from flames, SOLA PHOENIX OMNIAE MUNDI, rev. bust of queen three-quarters l., wearing ruff, ET ANGLIAE GLORIA (M.I. 1, p.90/1; Mitchener 4500), drilled in five places, otherwise about very fine for issue and very rare £80-100

The deliberately drilled holes were probably made so that the item could be worn as a button or badge by someone anxious to show their support for the queen. Both the vendor and the cataloguer are of the opinion that the portrait does not represent the queen at the time of her accession to the throne in the 1550s. The style of portrait and dress suggest a date much later in the reign and a very similar representation of the queen is to be found on an Armada token bearing the date 1589. Also, Elizabeth did not adopt the phoenix as a personal badge until some time in the 1570s. Both these facts would suggest that there is no grounding for this token’s traditional attribution as an accession medal.

331 Elizabeth I or Mary Queen of Scots, pewter token or jetton, 1574, crowned lion rampant l., within garter, reversed K-R in field rev. crowned arms of France between crowned pillars, date below, PIETA ET IVSTIA [sic] (Mitchener 4585), about very fine for issue and very rare thus £100-120
332  Elizabeth I or Mary Queen of Scots, pewter token or jetton, undated, crowned lion rampant l., within garter, no field mark, rev. crowned quartered arms of France-Dauphine GOD SAVE THE QUEEN (Mitchener 4578), nearly very fine and very rare £80-100

333  James I, second coinage, Britain crown, mm. trefoil, third bust crowned r., rev. crowned shield of arms, IR above (S.2625), very good/fine £200-300

334  James I, third coinage, laurel, mm. rose, second laur. bust, mark of value behind, rev. long cross fleury over crowned shield of arms (S.2638), nearly very fine £600-800

335  James I, third coinage, half laurel, mm. trefoil, fourth laur. bust l., mark of value behind, rev. long cross fleury over crowned shield of arms (S.2641A), better than very fine with an excellent portrait £800-1000

336  James I, third coinage, quarter laurel, mm. trefoil, fourth laur. bust l., mark of value behind, rev. long cross fleury over crowned shield of arms (S.2642A), good fine with a good portrait £300-350

337  James I, second coinage, shilling, mm. rose, third bust crowned r., mark of value behind, rev. shield of arms (S.2654), nearly very fine £120-150
338  Charles I, unite, Tower mint, mm. bell, fourth bust crowned l., wearing lace collar, mark of value behind, rev. crowned, oval, garnished shield, crowned CR at sides (S.2693A), almost extremely fine with an excellent portrait £1800-2200

340  Charles I, Tower mint under parliament, shilling, mm. sun, crowned bust l., mark of value behind, rev. flat-topped shield of arms over cross fourchee (S.2802, Br.564), on a slightly small flan, as usual, otherwise about extremely fine and rare thus £300-400

Considerably better than the Brooker specimen.
341  Charles I, Shrewsbury mint, half pound, mm. plume/ pellets, 1642, crowned figure of king on horseback, brandishing sword, no plume behind, arms below, rev. declaration in two lines, three Shrewsbury plumes and mark of value above, date below (S.2924; Br.805), good fine to very fine £1200-1500

342  Charles I, Oxford mint, crown, no mm., 1643, crowned figure of king on horseback, brandishing sword, plume behind (Shrewsbury die), rev. declaration in two lines, three Oxford plumes and mark of value above, date below (S.2946A; Br.870), toned, very fine or better, rare £1500-2000

The celebrated narrow shield variety. During the last few years, there has been an upsurge in interest in the collecting of sovereigns – leading to an inevitable and substantial increase in prices. This in turn has tempted onto the market a few signal rarities – foremost amongst them the 1819 sovereign. The 1843 narrow shield certainly ranks with that in terms of rarity – the cataloguer can find no trace of one being sold at auction for many years.

Two North American Indian Chief’s Medals

Adams [John W. Adams, The Indian Peace Medals of George III or His Majesty’s Sometime Allies, California, 1999] dates the medal to post-1778 and possibly as late as the War of 1812, although the reverse shows the earlier style of Royal Arms. 32 examples are listed in his census.
Great Britain, George III, Indian Chief’s medal, 1814, by Thomas Wyon Jr., specimen struck in copper, laureate bust of the King right, wearing ermine gown and garter collar, GEORGIVS III DEI GRATIA ..., rev. ornate royal arms within garter, lion and unicorn supporters, 75mm (Adams type 12.1; Jamieson Fig 24; BHM 844, R2), extremely fine £2200-2600

Adams notes only 4 examples in 'bronze' in his early census and 3 in the modern census making them considerably rarer than the silver specimens.

An interesting group of letters and manuscripts relating to numismatics

717  GRENVILLE, William Wyndham, Baron Grenville (1759-1834), Statesman, unsigned note written dated June 26th, 1796, when Foreign Secretary concerning “a coinage of false Dollars”, and of especial interest as it reflects on the concern of the Spanish Government; folded, and left margin taped (probably removed from a file volume), 180mm x 177mm [folded 180mm x 115mm], in good condition £150-200

“Permit that a letter be written from the Home department of the D. of R [Charles Lennox, 3rd Duke of Richmond and Lennox (1735-1806)] has no objection, to the Solicitor of the Mint reciting that the Spanish Ambassador has represented that a considerable quantity of false Dollars are coined in this Kingdom particularly at Birmingham in violation of the Laws of this Country and directing him to use his utmost endeavours to prove [deleted] discover or bring to justice the offenders.”

718  WEST, Benjamin (1738-1820), Anglo-American painter, President of the Royal Academy, autograph letter, dated Apr 2nd 1799, from Newman Street [London], addressed to Sir Stephen Cottrell, regarding new coinage designs; folded, and left margin with strip of backing paper (probably removed from a file volume), 225mm x 186mm, in good condition £1000-1200

“Be pleased to inform the Lords of the committee of Privy Council for Coins, that the gentleman whom they have nominated to prepare designs for the future fashion of the coin of this Kingdom, will have the honour to attend their Lordships with their several designs on Tuesday 9th Instant, at the hour you have signified to me in your last letter. I have the honour to be Sir Your most obedient and obliged Benjm West”

Ink annotation states incorrectly “Artist - President of the Royal Society”. West was the 2nd President of the Royal Academy, elected in 1792, serving till 1805, and re-elected again the following year serving till his death in 1820. The designs submitted by the Academicians were a disappointment and the proposal for a new gold and silver coinage came to nothing (cf A New History of The Royal Mint, Challis, C, ed; Dyer, G & Gaspar, P, p. 451).

719  WYON, William (1795-1851), medallist and chief engraver to the Royal Mint, autograph letter from the Royal Mint dated Sept 3rd, 1828, to William Thomas Brande in Brighton, referring to matters concerning Colonial coinage and a proposed new issue of Crown pieces; on both sides of folded paper, and left margin with strip of backing paper (probably removed from a file volume), integral address leaf [part cut away, and other minor repairs], 225mm x 184mm, in good condition £350-400

“Parry has already used Conway’s dies for the ½ farthing but the moneyers have next [not] commenced working in consequence of a blunder they committed in giving me the 4 Penny piece as a size & cutting the Blanks to the size of the small East India Coin this has obliged me to make the Dies smaller considerably than I intended which has spoilt the appearance of the Coin & given me a good deal of unnecessary work. I Yesterday had a trial with the Crown Head & find the new press a great nuisance an extensive coinage of Crowns will commence at the beginning of October. Mr Mattheison is melting the silver for it…” William Wyon was well respected for his huge output of coins and medals from the reign of George III through to the early years of Victoria’s reign. He was the first medallist to be elected to the Royal Academy. The ‘gossip’ concerning the E.I.C coinage is a fascinating insight and unpublished. The proposed coinage of Crown pieces to replace £1 notes is however well recorded in the Select Committee Report of 1837 and elsewhere. William Thomas Brande (1788-1866), chemist, editor of The Dictionary of Science and Art, later superintendent of the die department at the Royal Mint.

Gilbert Farquhar Graeme Mathison, Melter. In 1829 Mathison was, in part, responsible for the establishment of a refinery within the Royal Mint.

720  ERNST AUGUST, King of Hannover (1771-1837-1851), autograph letter in English, on mourning paper, dated Hannover April 22, 1844, addressed to Miss Charlotte Best relating to the gift of her father’s collection of medals to the King, and signed “Ernest”; the text perhaps in secretarial hand, fold marks and with the companion envelope closed with Royal seal, 182mm x 118mm, in good condition £120-150

“The King has received safely the valuable present of Medals which Miss Best has been so good as to give him, a Collection made by her excellent Father whose Memory is every [sic] dear to him, and in order that not only the names of the Donor, but of the Collector shall be handed down to posterity, a tablet shall be engraved with their names and placed over them…. He hopes if he can possibly get over to England this Season, to have an opportunity of thanking Miss Best in propria persona.” Ernst August, the 8th child of George III, was born in Buckingham Palace. It has been suggested that the medal collection may well be incorporated in the Kestner-Museum’s cabinet.
THOMAS GRAHAM (1805-1869), Master of the Mint (1855-1869), a signed letter in a secretarial hand, from The Royal Mint, dated 11 Decr 1861, to the banking firm of Messrs. Hodgkin Barnett & Co, of Newcastle upon Tyne, regarding the issue of the new bronze coinage and the recall of the old copper; on single side of folded foolscap, 330mm x 200mm, in very good condition £350-400

The letter is a fascinating insight into the mostly unrecorded approach of the Royal Mint and the distribution of the new coinage. “I have to request you to inform me whether it will be agreeable to you to assist the Government in the issue of the new bronze coinage …the new coin to be sold for notes or gold, and the Bank not being expected to undertake its exchange for old Copper coin unless you desire to do so …. The new bronze coin is made up in £1 packets placed in boxes each containing £20 value of one denomination. The issue to the public of smaller quantities than a single packet is not advised…”

Thomas Graham was a scientist and chemist of considerable renown, twice awarded the Royal Medal of the Royal Society and once its Copley medal. He founded the Chemical Society of London. Master of the Mint was to be Graham’s final post. Hodgkin, Barnett & Co., a banking house in Newcastle-on-Tyne, a firm afterwards amalgamated with Lloyds Bank.

QUEEN VICTORIA (Alexandrina Victoria, 1819-1837-1901), a group of three letters to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, concerning coinage matters:

a) Letter, unsigned but in her hand, on the headed mourning paper of Windsor Castle, dated March 26. 1869, to her Chancellor, Robert Lowe, approving a set of coins; on both sides of folded paper, 174mm x 113mm, in very good condition

“The Queen acknowledges Mr. Lowe’s Letter & returns the coins & she approves. Might she have a set to keep? The metal is very curious & she does not remember having seen it before.” The coinage refered to would be the Penny and Halfpenny for Jamaica which were struck in cupro-nickle, a metal which would have been “very curious” to the Queen.

b) Note, unsigned but in her hand, on the headed mourning paper of Buckingham Palace, dated March 12. 1870, to her Chancellor, Robert Lowe, approving coinage designs; on single side of folded paper, 174mm x 113mm, in very good condition

“The Queen approves of both these Designs – only the likeness shd be somewhat improved.” The letter would seem to refer to a Colonial coinage, probably India or Ceylon, though just possibly Canada.

c) Letter, unsigned but in her hand, on the headed mourning paper of Osborne, dated Aug. 14. 1870, to her Chancellor, Robert Lowe, approving a set of coins; on both sides of folded paper, 174mm x 113mm, in very good condition £650-700

“The Queen duly acknowledges Her Chancellor of the Exchequer’s Letter of the 11th entirely approving the suggestion of replacing the Sovereigns of W. he sends her specimen coin – currently written the other coin in case. May she retain them ….”.

The letter refers to the revival of the famous St. George and dragon design by Benedetto Pistrucci, once again to be the reverse of the Sovereign.

Robert Lowe (1811-1892), politician and statesman, at the time of these letters Chancellor of the Exchequer (1868-1873), in the Gladstone Government. When the Liberals were returned to power in 1880 he was raised to the peerage as Viscount Sherbrooke, against the express wishes of Queen Victoria.

BOEHM, Sir Joseph Edgar, Baronet (1834-1890), Sculptor, autograph letter, dated 31 March, 1880, to Leonard Charles Wyon, from “The Avenue, 76 Fulham Road, S.W.”, regarding an impending visit the following day and Wyon’s collection of medals by the Hameranis; on both sides of folded headed paper, 150mm x 100mm, in very good condition £150-200

“What rare treasures those are of Hamerani – What a grand artist. I envy you to posses[sic] such beautiful & highly miniature works…..”.

Boehm was born in Austria but was Hungarian by descent. He won the Imperial Prize at Vienna in 1856, aged 22, and the first of various honours. He settled in England in 1862, was naturalised in 1865. Boehm became an ARA in 1878, and RA in 1882.

Leonard Charles Wyon (1826-1891), Engraver to the Royal Mint

BOEHM, Sir Joseph Edgar, Baronet (1834-1890), Sculptor, autograph letter, dated July 29th, 1880, to Leonard Charles Wyon (though not stated), from “The Avenue, 76 Fulham Road, S.W.”, regarding the new coinage; on both sides of folded headed paper, 177mm x 112mm, in very good condition £150-200

“….[I] shall call at about 11.30 about the new coins. I saw the sovereign & think it a great success. There are only a few trifling touches which might improve it.” A pencilled annotation states “to LCW re /87 coinage endorsed by LCW”.

BOEHM, Sir Joseph Edgar, Baronet (1834-1890), Sculptor, autograph letter, dated 22 October 85, to Leonard Charles Wyon, from “The Avenue, 76 Fulham Road, S.W.”, regarding a forthcoming meeting; on single side of folded headed paper, 150mm x 100mm, in very good condition.

“Tomorrow afternoon I have a sitting which will last as long as daylight …. If you do not require the full length photo of the Queen any more could you kindly bring it with you?” A pencilled annotation states “Boehm RA re sitting from Queen Victoria for coinage of 1876.”

BOEHM, Sir Joseph Edgar, Baronet (1834-1890), Sculptor, unsigned note on both sides of a single sheet, concerning adjustments to the Jubilee portrait and coinage of 1887, in the form of a listing of several points, annotated in pencil as “to L. C. Wyon”; fold marks and left margin perhaps trimmed, 176mm x 114mm, in good condition.

“The forehead a little more out. Also the line of the throat & bust more forward. The least bit taken off at the point where nose & upper lip join. The chin a little rounder in outline & modelling (not too flat). The frontal bone might be stronger indicated to give fuller appearance to forehead. Eyebrows less sharp. The part round the eye being too meagre. Frill of cap to be larger & the veil more forward as indicated – The hair more into head & face & lower down near the ear & the shape of the terminus more as indicated – If possible to have the pearls (beading) round the coin instead of the ugly design at present in the pattern soo – [sic; and here a drawing] It would be a great improvement.” Below are 5 further doodles of possible border beading.

L. C. Wyon was responsible for engraving the busts of Victoria for both the coinage and the official medal, both from original designs by Boehm.
