Welcome to our last auction of a very successful year. This sale is heavily weighted towards British coins, medals and tokens and includes the Ronald Josland Collection of 17th Century Kent tokens. Among the earlier coins we are offering a voided cross type penny of Henry I, a lovely example of an Elizabeth I angel and an exceedingly rare milled coinage gold halfcrown of the same monarch. Other highlights of this section include a Worcester mint halfcrown of Charles I, a Cromwell broad in choice condition and a very rare first issue unite of Charles II, as well as an original warrant for Royal seals with designs by Thomas Simon. In the milled section we are including an 1893 long proof set, an 1839 plain edge proof crown and a uniface matt pattern crown of Edward VIII showing the proposed reverse design. The sovereign collector is well-served in this sale with over 150 lots on offer, including an 1838 ‘narrow shield’, an 1841 and an 1871 plain edge proof struck en médaille. We are also offering a larger than usual selection of British and Foreign commemorative medals, including a very rare gold medal commemorating the marriage of Charles II and Catherine of Braganza, a complete set of bronze medals of the Kings and Queens of Britain by Dassier and an extremely rare Portuguese gold medal celebrating the 300th anniversary of the consecration of the Virgin Mary as patron saint of Portugal. The star lot of Auction 31 is the widely-reported Massachusetts threepence in almost mint condition that was dug up near Sherwood Forest, but we are also offering among the American coins a 5 dollars, 1841C, a 1799 silver dollar and an 1807 quarter dollar.

Two other pieces of note in the Foreign section are both Australian - an unlisted 1857 half sovereign with inverted A for V in VICTORIA and a 1927 proof florin. The sale concludes with a small selection of banknotes.

*ex Hal Wells collection, Paul Bosco Auction 18, New York, 4 August, 1997, lot 69

Unusually, this piece is quite worn – the vast majority of the Portcullis money saw no circulation.
30  James I, second coinage, unite, mm. rose (1605-1606), crowned fourth bust r., holding orb and shouldering sceptre, rev. crowned shield of arms, IR at sides, wt. 9.93gms. (S.2619; N.2084), a couple of small marks in field on obverse, very fine £1250-1500

31  James I, third coinage, laurel, m.m. lis (1623-1624), fourth head left, small ties, rev. crowned square-topped shield over cross fleury, wt. 9.0gms. (S.2638B; N.2114), weakness to bottom of shield and bottom of bust, flan crack at 6 o’clock on obverse, very fine or better £1300-1500

32  James I, third coinage, quarter laurel, mm. thistle (1621-3), second laur. bust l., mark of value behind, rev. long cross fleury over crowned shield of arms (S.2642; N.2118), in plastic holder, graded by NGC as Extremely Fine 40, a very scarce mintmark £600-700

33  James I, shilling, second coinage, mm. lis, third bust (S.2654); sixpences (2), first coinage, 1603, mm. thistle, first bust (S.2647), 1603, mm. thistle, second bust (S.2648), fair to fine £100-120

34  Charles I, gold crown, Tower mint, mm. portcullis (1633-4), crowned fourth bust l., mark of value behind, rev. crowned oval shield dividing C R, wt. 2.24gms. (S.2715; N.2185), weak in places and a little creased, some light scratches on obverse but with a very sharp portrait, good fine and a rare mintmark £700-800

35  † Charles I, crown, Tower mint, type 2b1, mm. rose over plume (1630-32), crowned figure of king on horseback l., shouldering sword, seven pellets to left of mm. rev. oval, garnished shield of arms, plume above between CR (S.2756; N.2192), in plastic holder, graded by PCGS as Extremely Fine 40 £2200-2500

36  Charles I, shilling, mm. triangle; Elizabeth I, sixpence, 1573, mm. acorn, both about fine, the latter with a very scarce mintmark (2) £80-100

*ex Morris collection

An especially pleasing example of this crudely minted coin of the Civil War.

38 Commonwealth, crown, mm. sun, 1653, English shield of arms within wreath, rev. conjoined shields, mark of value above (S.3214; N.2721), slightly uneven flan, about very fine £1200-1400
40 Charles II, hammered coinage (1660-1662), first issue, unite, mm. crown, laur. bust l., without mark of value, rev. crowned oval garnished shield, CR at sides, wt. 8.94gms. (S.3301; N.2753), very slight double striking on obverse, lustrous, about extremely fine for issue

£11,000-13,000

A pleasing example of this extremely rare first issue. Vastly underrated in the catalogue, research suggests that only one turns up in every ten of the more common second issue. This piece is in almost as good condition as the example that sold at Spink in 2010 for £20,400 including bp.
41 Charles II, hammered coinage (1660-1662), first issue, double crown, mm. crown/-, laur. and dr. bust l., rev. crowned oval garnished shield dividing CR, wt. 4.56gms. (S.3302; N.2755), obverse double-and weakly struck, slightly creased, large plug through centre, scratch on reverse, otherwise good very fine £400-500

42 Charles II, guinea, 1681, fourth laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3344), with various obverse marks and has the appearance of possibly having been buried, but extremely fine or better with lustre £2750-3250

43 Charles II, crown, 1672, V. QVARTO, third laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, interlinked Cs in angles (S.3358; ESC.45), fine £100-120

44 Charles II, crown, 1673, V. QVINTO, third laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, interlinked Cs in angles (S.3358; ESC.47); with an Edward VI, Second Period shilling, this cracked at 4 o'clock, fine, the crown with a few digs on obverse, about very fine (2) £150-200
45 Charles II, halfcrown, 1671, V. TERTIO, third laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, interlinked Cs in angles (S.3366; ESC.468), bright, an interesting die flaw on reverse, nearly very fine, reverse a little better £250-300

46 Charles II, shilling, 1671, second laur. bust r., plume below, rev. crowned cruciform shields, interlinked Cs in angles, plume in centre (S.3376; ESC.1035), very fine £1000-1200

47 Charles II, pattern farthing in silver, 1665, laur. bust l., rev. Britannia std. l., with shield and spear (P.413), small scratches in fields on both sides, about very fine, scarce £100-120
An original warrant for Royal Seals with designs by Thomas Simon (1618-1665)

The Warrant for Seals for Foreign Letters of Charles II, dated 7 April 1664, with the King's signature and private seal affixed; the designs by Thomas Simon for two seals, 2½ ins. [62.7mm.] and 1½ ins. £8000-12,000

One of only a couple of lots from the original Christie's sale that are still in private hands.

The Warrant reads:-
Charles R [the King's signature]
Our Will and Pleasure is That you forthwith engrave two steele seales for Our Service, to be delivered to Our right trusty and wellbeloved Councellor Sr. Henry Bennet Knt. One of Our Principal Secretaries of State, according to the draught here above expressed, For which this shall be your Warrant, Given at Our Court at Whitehall the 7th day of April, 1664

By his Majt. Command
Henry Bennet

To Our trusty and wellbeloved
Thomas Simonds One of Our Chiefe Gravers.

Note:
Simon was well known for his Republican views and had been “passed over” at the Restoration. This Warrant is the first to use the expression “Our trusty and wellbeloved Thomas Simonds” and shows, as Derek Allen writes, that “he was not completely out of favour”. There is a proof impression of the larger seal in the Hunterian Museum, which is illustrated by Allen, pl. VI, 7.

Henry Bennet, 1st Earl of Arlington, KG, PC (1618 – 28 July 1685), statesman. Bennet was knighted in 1657, prior to the Restoration, and on his return to England in 1661 was made Keeper of the Privy Purse, a duty that oversaw “the procuring and management of the royal mistresses”. He was made Secretary of State in October 1662 and represented Callington in Parliament from 1661 till 1665 (in November 1662 he sought the help of Samuel Pepys and others to search for treasure believed hidden in the Tower of London). In Council he led the opposition to the Earl of Clarendon. He was later in the ‘Cabal’ ministry. He was privy to the secret negotiations for the Treaty of Dover with Louis XIV in 1670 and was created a Knight of the Garter two years later.

Provenance:
The artist's daughter, Mrs. Hibberd; her daughter, who married Samuel Barker of Fairford, Gloucestershire; their daughter, Esther, who married James Lamb of Hackney (d. 1761, and by descent to Raymond Barker, Bruton, Somerset, by 1938; Christie's Auction, 14 July 1987 (lot 27), “Sold by Order of a Foreign Trust”.

Literature:
Our Will & Pleasure is, That you for the scope of two little Sealts for Our Service, to be delivered to Our right worthy & wellbeloved Samuel Drury Esq,
One of Our Principal Sergeants of the, according to the above here inclosed receipt. For which this shall be of Warrant.
Gives at Our Court at Westmbye, the 1st Day of April, 1697
By his Lady's Command.
Henry Bonde.

98 George III, Bank of England, 3 shillings, 1813, type B1/2, laur. head r., rev: value and date within wreath (S.3770; ESC.421), toned, extremely fine or better £100-120

99 George III, Bank of England, uniface wax impression of the reverse punch for a pattern 5 shillings and sixpence, 1811, type 5; uniface cast copy of the obverse of a pattern dollar, type K/L, in silvered brass?, the first very fine, the second fine (2) £160-180

100 George III, copper trial blank, c. 1797, for the ‘Cartwheel’ twopence, struck without a proper collar, one side counterstamped TWOPENNY, 1.6 ins. (40.79mm.), wt. 55.97gms., much as made and without wear, nearly extremely fine and an extreme rarity £300-500

Matthew Boulton’s contract for the production of copper pence and twopenny pieces to be struck at the Soho Mint, was finally signed on the 9 June, 1797. Boulton was to strike the twopences from 500 tons of copper and pennies from a further 480 tons, all of which he provided at £108 per ton (a second substantial order was placed the following year). A proclamation of 26th July confirmed that each penny should weigh 1oz. (avoirdupois) and each twopence 2ozs. The blank conforms with both the weight and the 1.6 inch diameter (5 coins side by side measured 8 inches). The cataloguers can only speculate that this piece was part of the pre-contract demonstration trials, and know of no further specimens.

Tokens

The Ronald Josland Collection of 17th Century Kent Tokens

with a selection of other tokens

I have been building this collection of 17th century tokens of Kent and town pieces over the past 30 years or more, greatly helped by my 45 year membership of the Kent Numismatic Society, where for 25 years I have acted as secretary. I have engaged in detailed research on great number of the issuers of Kent, culminating in an extensive archive which I hope I will be able to publish at some stage.

After taking early retirement in 1990 from a managerial position with British Telecom, I joined the museum service at Maidstone Museum and Art Gallery. During my time there I took on the task of assessing and re-packaging some of the tokens housed in the museum. This included three collections put together by the Rev. Ackworth: his hop tokens, love tokens and 17th century tokens. After this I continued my work on the various 17th century collections held in the museum’s archive and was pleased to have had an essay titled ‘A Group of Seventeenth Century Tokens in Maidstone Museum’, published in the Kent annual publication ‘Archaeologia Cantiana’ (Vol CXVI 1996). On retirement from the museum I continued in this task as a volunteer, the project lasting in total over six years.

I continue as a keen numismatic collector but having taken the 17th century collection as far as I could, I am now taking a new direction in my collecting field. I hope that the future owners of my tokens will derive as much pleasure from them as I have over the years.

Mintage of 1500.
With the arrival of the Pilgrim Fathers in New England in the early 17th century came a need for a medium of exchange to facilitate trade. The earliest ‘coinage’ was wampum – small shells used by the local Native American tribes – but by the middle of the century a very real necessity for a standard coinage had arisen. This was ignored by the English government who, in the aftermath of the Civil War and the early years of the Commonwealth, had more pressing matters at home with which to concern itself. Therefore the Massachusetts General Court took matters into its own hands and in 1652 ordered the first metallic currency, to be minted in Boston, using silver principally from the West Indies. The first coins were very plain, merely inscribed with NE on the obverse and the denomination on the reverse, but these were soon replaced by a more attractive design, depicting willow trees from 1653-1660, oak trees from 1660-1667 and pine trees from 1667-1682. All coins except the Oak Tree twopence were dated 1652, giving the impression that they were struck during the English Commonwealth period. Apparently Charles II was shown an Oak Tree shilling in 1662, identifying the tree as that in which the king had hidden from the Roundheads in 1651 after the Battle of Worcester, but the king took it in good humour. The Massachusetts coinage ceased in 1682 and it was not until over a hundred years later that a standard American currency was issued.

This example is well centred and well struck, with more complete details than any of the three specimens that sold in Stack's 2005 John J. Ford Jr. Collection sale. Likewise, it is far sharper than the Stack's 2002 Hain Sale coin. The Joe Lasser-Colonial Williamsburg Foundation coin shows similar details. The Ford coins sold for strong prices and represented the finest specimens seen in a generation or more. The first of them was very close to Mint State, with superb colour and surface – it brought $43,125. The second showed very light wear and was perhaps even more appealing, selling to a dealer for $27,600. The third was not as well struck, but was attractive despite its crudity, bringing $13,800. Though this piece shows light corrosion from its burial, its strike and completeness of detail ranks with the finest examples of this Noe number extant. As a class, Oak Tree threepences are significantly rarer than Oak Tree shillings, despite being overshadowed by their larger kin in the marketplace.

This is a remarkable coin, found a few months ago close to Sherwood forest, presumably dropped a short while after it was struck. Not surprisingly, it is very rare for Massachusetts coins to be found in the UK, and one can only speculate how this one arrived here. It is known that the men who signed the death warrant of Charles I were actively hunted down on the orders of his son, Charles II, when the monarchy was restored, and that some of the signatories had travelled to America when the future of the Commonwealth was looking bleak. Could this threepence have been dropped by one of Charles II’s men who had been out to Massachusetts in search of the murderers of the former king, and then returned to this country shortly after? He would no doubt have been in favour with the king for making that hazardous journey twice in order to do his bidding. Certainly this threepence, the finest we have seen, has seen very little wear, and is unlikely to have been in circulation for any prolonged period of time.
